SON VELL

OUR MANIFEST.”

In these uncertain times, of many voids, of many questions, of many gaps, we decided to start a path that would bring us answers; to walk, understand and preserve the steps of others, of other lives lived, of other dreams dreamed.

Behind the fallen walls, under the abandoned stones, buried in the earth that had barely been disturbed, we discovered the lost trace of the work and labours of other times; a past that draws the story of our future; a legacy of life, of care and love for old and new generations.

A legacy of respect, nature, culture, and identity; natural and social ecosystems that we regenerate respecting their essence and memory, and in which we integrate hospitality services under the strictest standards of excellence.

For others to discover, enjoy and make their own. So that it can transform them as it did with us, so it can shape their path as it did ours. So that they may discover in them the experience of their present and the story of their future.

"Menorca, the easternmost Balearic island, is the mellower cousin of Mallorca and Ibiza, with dreamy sun-splashed shores of white and golden sand, charming whitewashed villages and rolling hills and fields with an air of rural bliss"

A symbol of Menorcan elegance and beauty

Ensnconced in rippling countryside close to the sparkling coast, yet only 20-minutes from historic Ciutadella, Son Vell rises from the land as a symbol of Menorcan elegance and beauty. The original 18th century Manor House resides in quiet harmony alongside a series of traditional agricultural buildings fanning out across the estate.

Having undergone a meticulous restoration, Son Vell now comprises a clutch of luxurious suites in both the main house and the old barns. On the fringe of the estate's 180 hectares are fertile fields and a working farm as well as landscaped gardens, citrus trees, olive groves and an organic vegetable garden.

You're a ten-minute walk from palm-fringed Cala Son Vell and the centuries-old Camí de Cavalls borders the estate; this ancient route strung along the coastline delivers you to hidden beaches, pine-scented forests and rocky cliff-faces.

You're a ten-minute walk from palm-fringed Cala Son Vell and the centuries-old Camí de Cavalls borders the estate; this ancient route strung along the coastline delivers you to hidden beaches, pine-scented forests and rocky cliff-faces.

A stunning location within a short stroll of some of the island's most ravishing beaches. Easy access to the Camí de Cavalls for hiking, horseback-riding and mountain-biking along the entire coast, and only 20 minutes to the picturesque port city of Ciutadella.

ROOMS & SUITES

The hotel comprises 34 spacious rooms and suites positioned in an abundant seven hectare enclave within the estate. At every turn and hidden corner you'll happen across glorious gardens bursting with flowers, native plants, trees and groves. Rooms are located within the main house, in renovated old barns and outbuildings, many with access to a private terrace or garden space. Each luminous room retains its individual charm with comfortable living areas, spoiling bedrooms and bathrooms, antique furniture and contemporary art and sculptures. Architecturally reminiscent of the Venetian-style, the main manor house brings to mind an elegant home of the nobility or 'Casas del Signore'.
